Deluxe - Cinema

Multiple camera angles add depth, variety, and a distinct cinematic look to your wedding video. When watching a Hollywood movie, notice how often the location of the camera changes, and how many vantage points there are. This translates into a spellbinding collection of images that work together to tell a story from all angles. You decide how many cameras you want for your wedding ceremony - three, four, or more! The first camera (or primary camera) is located at the back of the ceremony facility, facing forward. The second camera is always in the front, to the right, facing the bride. The third camera is in the front, to the left, facing the groom, and the fourth camera is all the way in the back, capturing global birds-eye beauty shots of the overall ceremony. Fifth and sixth cameras can be added on balconies for additional beauty shots. You decide where you want each camera to be placed - the sky is the limit! Three or more camera coverage during the ceremony. Two or more camera coverage for the cocktail hour and reception. Package also includes coverage at the bride's house as she gets prepared, pre-ceremony preparations, and a wedding highlight recap with music. Professionally edited and mastered onto DVD.

- * Coverage at the bride's house as she gets prepared

Wedding Story

America is consumed with reality TV! The Bachelor, The Bachelorette, Survivor, Trading Spaces, a Baby Story, a Dating Story, and of course ... a Wedding Story.

Are you a die-hard reality TV fan? Couples audition by the thousands for these shows, but only a few ever get filmed. Did you ever picture yourself in a reality-based documentary? Well here is your chance to star in your own "Wedding Story." We come along with the bride and groom for the key planning events that lead up to the wedding as you prepare for your big day. We film you while choosing wedding rings, at dress fittings, interviewing DJ's and photographers, at the hair salon, going over your checklists at home, finalizing the details with all your vendors, etc. We catch you in all the action of talking with your friends, family, and wedding planners.

The cameraman prompts you throughout the filming with questions, getting you to talk to the camera, explaining to your television audience what is currently happening, and how you are feeling. We also "spot interview" you, a technique made popular by MTV's "The Real World," where the final documentary cuts back and forth between live action and interview footage of you talking about what is currently happening.

Once the big day arrives, we switch into "Red Carpet Premiere" mode. 2 cameras follow you around for the bulk of the wedding day festivities. Once you return from your honeymoon, sit and talk as we interview you about the highlights of your entire wedding experience.

You will receive a deluxe 3-DVD set that includes all the content of the Red Carpet Premiere package, as well as your personalized 1 hour wedding story documentary, produced in the same fashion as TLC's popular cable series "A Wedding Story." A fabulous, all encompassing collection of memories - a snapshot of time that will take you back to the events leading up to your wedding, the big day itself, and your post-wedding thoughts and feelings. You will only find this package here at TLJ Studios! For the couple that wants it all!

Additional Items

Add on one or more items below to your desired package to create a video that is unique for your wedding!

Coverage at the bride's house as she gets prepared

We arrive at the bride's house to cover all the ladies getting ready for the big day. Whether you are having a professional photographer capture this event, or just a family member snapping personal keepsake photos, we'll be sure to get it all on film! A lovely addition to your wedding day memories.

Pre-Ceremony preparations

We arrive early at the location of your ceremony and capture scenic pictures of the grounds and the facility prior to your guests arriving. We film panoramic views of the inside of your ceremony facility, as well as closeups of all flowers and decorations both inside and outside. Guests are filmed as they arrive. A wonderful opening segment to set up the atmosphere of your ceremony.

Photo Collage (customer selected pictures) (3-6 mins each)

Wedding Day Recap Story

A favorite among all couples! The highlights of your wedding day are artistically presented with cinematic effects such as slow-motion, black & white, sepia, old-time film, and custom transitions. Set to the background song of your choice, this is the video segment everyone loves to watch most, and rarely is there a dry eye in the room when it's over!

Outtakes & Extra Footage

No matter how carefully you plan, invariably there will be unplanned issues that arise, adding character and spontaneity to your wedding day. These moments are what make your day truly unique, and what you will talk about for years to come. In addition, at the end of a wedding shoot, there is typically quite a bit of additional material that doesn't make it onto the DVD. This is usually downtime in between shots, waiting for the camera to reset to a new shot, or redundant material that would drag out the presentation of the ceremony or reception. After watching the official presentation of the wedding day, many couples enjoy revisiting the experience on a more humorous and lighter note. A collection of spontaneous and unplanned events are compiled into a single video segment, as well as additional highlight footage of informal moments that did not make the original DVD. Set to light-hearted music, this segment is sure to tickle your funny bone, as well as present your wedding day in a more informal and fun setting.

Rehearsal / Rehearsal Dinner

We come out the day prior to your wedding to capture the rehearsal, as well as the highlights of your rehearsal dinner. Another light-hearted and informal addition to any wedding video to add to your memories!

Love Story

We interview both members of the couple on a variety of subjects - how you met, your first kiss, your dating experiences, the proposal, favorite qualities of your partner, how your life has changed with your partner, and where you see yourselves in the future. We then film you at a scenic location of your choice, in a variety of situations, such as walking hand-in-hand, sitting together, hugging, kissing, etc. The scenic footage is then combined with the interview footage, along with a light, reflective soundtrack to create a delightful visual storybook of your unique love story. When captured in the days leading up to your wedding, this presentation is enjoyed time and again by the couple, as well as family and friends alike for many years to come.

Wedding Story

The ultimate add-on to your wedding memories! This is a documentary segment, similar to "A Wedding Story," made popular on TLC. We sit down with you and select a handful of key preparations to videotape during the days leading up to your wedding, such as choosing wedding rings, dress fittings, interviewing DJ's and photographers, at the hair salon, going over your checklists at home, etc. After the wedding we sit down and interview the newlywed couple and ask a series of questions about the time leading up to the wedding, as well as revisiting all the events of the actual wedding day. The interview footage is then combined with highlights of the taped segments leading up to the wedding day, as well as highlights of the wedding day. The end result is a documentary style segment that will take you back year after year, step by step, to the events leading up to your wedding, as well as the wedding itself. Not just the events, but all the thoughts and insights behind them. A much-treasured addition to any wedding video!
